

be divided into zones so that the work may be expedited.

Following is a list of the team leaders and their lieutenants who will select additional workers:

Herbert Marcus, captain; lieutenants, M. E. Florence, Sam Marks, Herbert Mallinson, Edgar Hurst, A. L. Joffe, Gus Root.

A. L. Kramer, captain; lieutenants Simon Linz, Eli Sanger, Lawrence Miller, Henry Miller.

L. Kleinman, captain; lieutenants Charles Scheer, Julius Yonack, Jacob Yonack, Israel Cohen.

I. Zesmer, captain; lieutenants, Louis Sigel, Barney Aranoff, Ben Goldberg, Morris Weinkranz, Julius Harris, Phil Garonzik, Henry Eli.

Harry Sigel, captain; lieutenants, L. H. Novin, Joseph Schepps, Louis Sacks, David Fair, H. M. Levinson.

Jews Open Drive for Funds Today.

"How many Jews will be saved from starvation in Europe by the contributions of their brethren in Dallas and in Texas will be indicated by the size and number of contributions made in the first day of the relief campaign which begins Monday morning," Dr. David Lefkowitz told a room full of workers at Temple Emanu-El yesterday. "The appeal for life of emaciated babies and of men and women wrecked by disease and privations will be carried directly to Jewish people in Dallas," he declared. "They can not turn a deaf ear to that call."

More than a hundred workers will start out from various central points at 9 o'clock this morning and the work of raising the Dallas quota of $50,000 is expected by the leaders to be more than half completed by tonight.

The Jewish War Relief Committee is already faced by a deficit of $2,000, 000, the workers were told, and $14, 000,000 is needed to make bare existence possible for the people in the war stricken countries across the sea.

"It is no longer a question of whether Dallas shall raise its quota," J. K. Hexter, in charge of the local committee, told the workers yesterday, "but it is rather a question of how many times the quota will be doubled. With the showing already made it is clear that the generosity which has characterized the Jews of Dallas will not fail when their brothers are dying daily for the want of bread."

Rabbi Isaac Werne pointed out the need of prompt and open-handed giving, painting a gruesome picture of the sufferings of the people who, through no fault of their own, he said, are bearing the heaviest burdens resulting from the war.

"The call of 60,000 hungry children who have never smiled, to whom three meals a day means more than they might hope for, is one that few can resist," the rabbi said.

"Dallas is on trial," Herbert Marcus declared, "and the question, 'How many Jewish lives will you save?' is up to the people of this city. One hundred dollars will save an average family. You should not be satisfied with saving a tenth or a half of a family. All must be saved."

Literature explaining the need of contributions has been mailed to every Jewish family in Dallas and it is the intention of the leaders in the campaign to give each one and opportunity to contribute by Tuesday night. A meeting of the executive committee will be held Tuesday morning, at which time the total contributions are expected to be announced.

LITTLE ROCK.

Everyone who received the invitations issued by Mrs. Katzenstein for the "country dance" was prepared for an unusually interesting party, but probably even Mrs. Katzenstein did not realize how much fun her guests would have.

The rear half of the third floor of the Regent building was used for the dance. A touch of decoration was given by the bright colored paper ribbons arranged overhead, otherwise it was as "bare as a barn." Wooden chairs were arranged around two sides of the room. Long pine tables, covered, but unmistakably laden with "eats" were on another side. On the fourth a negro string band furnished the music, a cleverly arranged pump permitted the dancers to pump cups full of ice water. A "postoffis" filled up the remainder of the space, and here the boys congregated after each dance and got a letter telling with whom they would have the next one.

The invitation had insisted on "country clothes," and everybody came dressed to the part. The men wore overalls and rompers, though one or two of them were evidently village dudes. The girls all wore gingham dresses or aprons. Even Mrs. Katzenstein wore a coverall gingham apron.

Mrs. Katzenstein was assisted in her attentions to her guests by Mrs. Sam Rank, of Little Rock and Mrs. Sarah Ronsenstoch, the honoree, Miss Isabel Katzenstein and Postmaster Goldring.

The grand march was led by Miss Frank and Mrs. Seymour Van Oz, followed by Mr. Sol Meyer and Miss Esther Selber, Mr. Stanley Sour and Miss Adele Stein, Mr. Harry Goldstein and Miss Sarah Barth, Mr. Isadore Wile and Miss Rosa Sour, Mr. Isadore Rosenfield and Miss Edna Nosseck, Mr. Sidney Leadman and Miss Rai Stein, Mr. Bernard Weiss and Miss Nettie Levy, Mr. Earl Weiner and Miss Fannie Herdsdorfer of Canton, Mr. Abrey Cahn and Miss Minna Harris, Mr. Abrey Weisman and Miss Mathilde Levy, Mr. Mike Weisman and Miss Bunny Young of St. Louis, Mr. Floille Stein and Miss Sadine Naman. Mr. Herman Leiber and Miss Sadie Dreyfuss, Mr. Isadore Leiber and Miss Jennie Levy and Gladys Lemie. Mr. Bernard Kline and Miss Bertha Lefkowitz, Mr. Guggenheim and Miss Karlina Litchenstein, Mr. Aaron Selber and Miss Natilie Hellperin, Dr. Bernard and Miss Selma Groner, Mr. Martin Kirsch and Miss Julia Holland, Mr. Mires Jackson and Miss Audrey Young of St. Louis, Mr. Leon Jacobs and Miss Hilda Willer.

The stags were Dr. Kaffe and Messrs. Aaron Katzenstein, Jay Herold, Abe Levy, Dave Roos, Ike Braunig, Ira Lewis and Joe Glasser.

The refreshments were another very much enjoyed part of this unique party. Each man served himself and his girl to bowls of steaming hot chili, pickles, sandwiches of many kinds and lemon and chocolate pies, lemonade, all-day suckers and peppermint candy.

Beautiful Wedding in Little Rock

A beautiful planned home wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Cohn on Rock Street when their daughter, Rosabel, became the bride of Henry E. Cahn of Shreveport La.

For the occasion the residence was transformed into a bower of bridal loveliness; everywhere the color note of green and white being harmoniously carried out and accentuated in many dainty details. In the living room, where the improvised altar was arranged, the green of the smilax was blended with a profusion of Easter lilies. Baskets filled with lovely flowers added to the decorative effect.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Huckleberry, who presided at the piano, played the nuptial music, and promptly at 9 o'clock, the hour appointed, to the strains of Mendelssohn the bridal party entered.

The bride, who walked with her father, was lovely in her bridal gown of chiffon taffeta over lace, with the long tulle veil caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Miss Jamie Cohn was her sister's attendant, and was becomingly gowned in pale green taffeta trimmed in pink rosebuds. Her flowers were Russell roses. Abrey S. Cahn, of Shreveport, served as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Abram Brill of Shreveport.

A reception followed when two hundred guests were welcomed by the bridal party and by Mr. and Mrs. Cohn, Mr. and Mrs. Cahn of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Losos of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lyons.

The buffet table in the dining room was specially attractive, bearing pink candles and centered by a handsome embossed wedding cake, with baskets of superb Charles Russell roses.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Cahn have gone East on their wedding journey, and will later be at home in Shreveport where the groom is a prominent young business man. The bride is a beautiful young woman of charming personality.

The visiting guests included the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Cahn; his brother, Mr. Abrey S. Cahn; his cousins, Miss Libbie J. Weissman and Miss Rosa Sour, and Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Weisman, Rabbi Abram Brill and Mrs. Brill, Mr. H. Leiber, all of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Losos and Mr. Louis Losos of St. Louis, and Mr. Marcus Cohn of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. H. Goldstein and Mr. Henry Cahn.

The above account of the brilliantly celebrated Cahn-Cohn wedding in Little Rock clipped from the Arkansas Democrat, and is of great interest to the large circle of friends of the Cahn family and its large and prominent connection and of the young bridegroom, who is one of Shreveport's leading young business men, and of the charming young bride, who, in a recent visit to Shreveport, won many friends who are happy to welcome her to Shreveport.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kasakofsky announce the marriage of her sister, Miss Bessie Olin, to Mr. Charles Levine of Kansas City, Mo., on Sunday, April 3. Mr. and Mrs. Levine will be at home at 1208 King's Highway, St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Weiner have returned from a few days delightfully spent in New Orleans.

SOME LAUGHTER A LA CARTE

Some of us mortals daily indulge in hearty meals at home while others of us must grab just a bite in a hurry at the nearest restaurant. Without question eating is a most important proposition for us all. Food is fuel for the human machine. Now and then a little humor is happening and repartee is sandwiched in between the solemn moments at the table. Such times and laughs thus provided without cost, as it were, are a welcome relish. In the same way "Topics of the Day" films are a popular relish with movie audiences everywhere. Many subjects are treated humorously in the comments and jokes cooked up by the press humorists. Some of the best "Topics" relate to eating and restaurant run. You may prefer to have your meals table d'hote. But when it comes to humor it is better when served a la carte on the menu provided by the Jewish Monitor.

AUSTIN.

The Council of Jewish Women gave a very enjoyable Purim Masquerade Ball at the Elks' Club, Thursday evening, March 24th.

On Sunday evening, March 26th, the children of the Sunday School gave an entertaining Purim program.

Mrs. M. London has as her guest her sister, Mrs. L. Schusterman, and little granddaughter of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Haber have returned after a pleasant visit in Corpus Christi, Texas.

The delegates to the State Convention of the Council of Jewish Women in San Antonio were Mrs. Carl Belisch, Mrs. Bertha Haybeck, Mrs. A. Guggenheim, and Miss Lydia Littmann. Among the others from Austin to attend were Mrs. M. London, Misses Goldye Miriam and Marjorie Belisch. Mrs. Haybeck had a very interesting paper on "Work With the Deaf," and Miss Littmann was elected State Recording Secretary.

Hill County Lodge I. O. B. B. held a meeting Tuesday, April 5th, and Mr. Joe Koen was elected as delegate to the convention to be held in Dallas.

At the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Dave Goldstein in Taylor, on March 18th, occurred the wedding of Miss Rosa Goldstein to Mr. H. A. Wroe, both of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Wroe left for a wedding journey to New York, and have now returned and are "at home" at the Driskill Hotel.

Mrs. Hirschfelder is the guest of her niece, Mrs. A. D. Guggenheim.

Rabbi Henry Barnstone of Houston gave a very interesting address to the Texas Menorah Society Sunday afternoon, April 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Migel of Waco were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Goldstein en route home from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Daiches were the guests for a few days last month of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keon.

Among those returning from St. Louis and New York this week are Messrs. Seymour Haber, Chas. Rosner and Max Snaman.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Levine of Gainesville, Texas are guests in the city attending the Scottish Rite Convention, which is being held here this week.

Mr. Roddy of Temple, Texas, is also here for the convention.

The many friends of Mr. Isaac Melaskey are glad to see him able to be about again, having had the accident of breaking his ankle. Mr. Melaskey was here from New York on a visit to his sisters, Mrs. E. Krohn and Mrs. Carl Belisch.